Embroiled in a row

ADRIAN Greenwood, 42, attended the independent preparatory Hawtherns School in Bletchingley Surrey and Tonbridge School in Kent

He later went on to study philosophy politics and economics at Christ Church Oxford before studying for an MBA at Imperial College London.

After leaving Imperial he began buying British Rail lost property including umbrellas mobile phones, coats and prams to sell at car boot sales around London a move which saw him move into the field of art dealing.

In 1996 he contributed his first article to the Antiques Bulletin magazine and went on to write for a number of antiques and collectables magazines

Two years later Mr Greenwood began selling books online and accumulated five garages full at 25 000 books until he began dealing in rare and antique books

Mr Greenwood became embroiled in a row with Harry Potter author J K Rowling after buying a number of the writer's personal items, including a drawing Rowling had done of a little boy a hand-coloured invitation to her daughter's second birthday party and a list of potential character names for the first Harry Potter book.

He was approached by Rowlings literary agents when he put the items up for sale on eBay who accused him of breaching copyright.

In November 2010 Mr Greenwood had his first edition Harry Potter book stolen from a gallery in Woodstock while it was on loan there

He appeared on BBC and ITV to warn the thief how difficult it would be to sell the edition and it was later abandoned outside a Boots cosmetics shop in Abingdon

Mr Greenwood retired from dealing books to focus on writing historical books with his first book, Victoria a Scottish Lion being published in 2015

His historical works focus mainly on 19th century British military history

Scaffold removed to mark end of £6.5m hotel revamp

THE final piece of scaffolding will be taken down from Oxford's historic The Randolph Hotel today following a blaze last year.

The milestone comes a year after the fire ravaged part of the five-star hotel after being started by flames from a dish being flambéed in the kitchen.

More than 235 tradesmen have worked on the renovations over the last 12 months to ensure the building looks as it did before the blaze on April 17 last year.

Hotel manager Michael Grange will be removing the last section of the framework that supported construction work alongside two workmen at about 10am.

He said: "I can't wait until the last of the refurbishment is completed and the scaffolding at the front of the hotel comes down and we can once again unveil this majestic building.

"To celebrate we will be launching a new range of room types including an executive suite lounge, a new restaurant and also a new signature bar in addition to our world-renowned salon - the home of the perfect Oxford high tea."

By Katriona Ormiston

The unveiling of the façade signals the last stages of a £6.5 million revamp. The grade II listed building was built between 1863 and 1866 and marks its 150th birthday this year.

The renovations included a complete rebuild of the original roof using the same techniques and materials as when it was first put in place in 1866.

The flames from the flambé dish spread to the extractor fan from the kitchen and neighbouring rooms. About 10 of the hotel's 151 rooms were affected. More than 80 guests and staff were evacuated but no one was seriously injured.

In total 14 fire engines were sent to tackle the blaze.

The Randolph has hosted prime ministers and former US presidents including Bill Clinton in 2001, as well as TV cameras shooting famed crime drama Inspector Morse. Its Morse Bar was regularly used in the detective series penned by Oxford author Colin Dexter.

The Randolph is run by Macdonald Hotels.

Regional managing director Jonathan Dawson said: "We have to praise the hard work and skill of all our tradesmen from SPV [building firm] returning one of our most iconic and best loved hotels back to all its five-star splendour as quickly and as efficiently as they did, with minimal disruption to our guests.

"We are excited to have been able to take this opportunity to add a few internal upgrades and look forward to revealing more in the coming months."

Police appeal after abduction attempt

A 10-YEAR-OLD boy managed to escape from a man who grabbed his wrist during an attempted abduction in Blackbird Leys.

The boy was walking in Cuddesdon Way on Friday at about 3.15pm when a white man with short black hair and stubble grasped his arm, telling him: "You're coming with me."

But the boy managed to break free from his would-be abductor and make his way home.

Police launched an appeal on Monday to find the driver of a vehicle that passed during the incident who might be able to help the investigation.

The offender is described as being aged between 35 and 40, 5ft 9ins to 6ft tall, of slim build with distinctive eyes - one of which was brown and the other green and brown.

He was wearing a white T-shirt and dark blue jeans.

Anyone with information is urged to call 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

City out of luck

OXFORD Oxford missed out in the finals of the European Capital of Innovation Awards on Friday when Amsterdam took the accolade and £762,000 cash prize.

The city was one of nine shortlisted for the title and was the smallest represented at a ceremony hosted by the European Commission in Brussels.

It was vying for the title along side Amsterdam, Berlin, Eindhoven, Glasgow, Milan, Paris, Turin and Vienna.

Amsterdam was the city judged to have the best track record of supporting and promoting innovation.

Oxford City Council chief executive Peter Sloman said: "The fact that Oxford is in the mix with major cities like Paris and Berlin demonstrates the strength of the bid."

Oxford's bid was developed by a coalition that included the city council, Oxfordshire County Council, the city's universities and hospital trust.

Currency stolen

OXFORD Burglars stole foreign currency during a raid on a home in Botley last weekend.

The offenders forced entry through a back window of the house in Fogwell Road and carried out an untidy search between 4.30pm on Saturday and 8am on Sunday.

Police are appealing for anyone with information to call them on 101 or the Crimestoppers line anonymously on 0800 555111.

Councillor's motion calls for a single authority for Oxfordshire

A WEST Oxfordshire councillor has called for his council to look at joining a single unitary authority for the county.

The county's five district and city councils want to see the present set up abolished and replaced by four larger unitary councils while Oxfordshire County Council would prefer a single Oxfordshire unitary authority.

But district councillor Duncan Enright has tabled a proposal for West Oxfordshire to support an Oxfordshire council instead of merging with Cotswold District Council under the plan for four unitary authorities.

Cllr Enright said: "It is important we rule out full political union with Cotswold. We can continue sharing services with other authorities and have made savings as a result but within our historic and logical home which is Oxfordshire."

Vale of White Horse and South Oxfordshire district councils would also merge as would Cherwell and South Northamptonshire.

Cllr Enright's motion is to be put to WODC at a meeting on Wednesday April 27.

By Alex Ballinger

BRITAIN'S Got Talent viewers from Oxford might have spotted a few familiar faces on Saturday as members of a Blackbird Leys dance school took to the stage to impress Simon Cowell and his fellow judges.

The young people from Messy Jam Dance School, who donned Guardsmen costumes and were joined by a very nimble Queen, are hoping their talents can take them all the way to performing in front of real royalty.

The 13 members of Messy Jam that make up Elite Squad Royalz come from in and around Oxford and were given the thumbs up by the judges.

Chelsea Cox was given the tricky responsibility of performing as a hip hop monarch.

The 11-year old from Wood Farm said: "I was really thankful. It's a big role to take up. It was amazing.

"We were nervous but I knew we were going to do well. The crowd was cheering. It was just so supportive."

Messy Jam meets at two halls in the Blackbird Leys area, but the group has not had a permanent home for 10 years.

But their teacher and choreographer Elisha Pearl is hoping their new found fame will help find them a permanent base.

The 33 year old from Barton said: "It's a once-in a lifetime opportunity. It was an amazing experience.

"We're looking for a permanent home."

The school splits its time between Jubilee Hall in Sorrel Road, Blackbird Leys and The Barn in Nightingale Avenue, Greater Leys.

After receiving their four yes votes from the judges, Elite Squad Royalz are waiting to hear from ITV to find out if they will appear on the show again.

Daisie Hegarty-Ward, 12, of Iffley, said: "It was really hard but it was worth it. We trained for three hours a week.

"My friends have all been talking about it. We all watched it on TV together and all of our phones started beeping loads. People were saying 'I just saw you on TV'.

"Now we're back to it, back to working hard."

New bishop chosen after a lengthy wait

By Adam Flinn

A NEW bishop to lead the church in Oxfordshire and beyond has finally been chosen 18 months after his predecessor retired.

The Right Reverend Dr Steven Croft, 58, was announced as the Bishop of Oxford on Tuesday morning, and is set to take up office later in the year.

The Bishop of Oxford leads the Church of England in Oxfordshire, Berkshire and Buckinghamshire, supported by the area bishops of Dorchester, Reading and Buckingham.

The appointment came after the previous Bishop of Oxford, the Rt Rev John Pritchard, retired in October 2014.

Bishop Steven, who is currently the Bishop of Sheffield, and will start his new role in the autumn, said: "I am looking forward enormously to a new challenge and new responsibility in the Diocese of Oxford and to working with the senior team and many others to serve the local communities and to build up the life of the church.

"There are many signs of God's grace at work across the diocese and immense potential for the future. I would ask for the prayers of the diocese in the coming weeks and months for all that lies ahead."

The Diocese of Oxford has a population of about 2.3 million, more than 800 churches and almost 300 church schools.

The Bishop of Dorchester, the Rt Rev Colin Fletcher, who has been Acting Bishop of Oxford said: "This is a great day for our diocese as we welcome the announcement of the next Bishop of Oxford.

"As both a diocesan bishop and as a parish priest, Steven has shown a passion for sharing the good news of Christ in both traditional and innovative ways."

The Dean of Christ Church in Oxford, the Very Rev Professor Martyn Percy said: "The cathedral very much looks forward to welcoming Bishop Steven to Oxford and to the wider diocese. The diocese, like its cathedral, is both complex and unique, and we look forward to the distinctive gifts that Bishop Steven will bring to us in our shared vocation."

Bicester school opens doors to pupils at its new £6.9m site

A CHURCH of England primary school has opened its doors in Bicester after relocating to a new site.

The grand opening of the new £6.9 million St Edburg's CE Primary School was held on Monday, March 21, after its move from Cemetery Road to Pioneer Way on the town's Kingsmere development.

It has a two-form entry and a nursery.

School headteacher Margarel Kunzer said: "We are delighted to be in our new school. The children and staff are enjoying a building which has exceeded all expectations and gives the children a wonderful learning environment.

"The state-of-the-art building makes a statement to the surrounding community that this is an excellent learning environment for children."

As well as classrooms, the school has a main hall, a space for smaller assemblies, prayer spaces and a school heart space, which is a central learning hub for all pupils and staff to use.

Developers Willmott Dixon worked with St Edburg's and Oxfordshire County Council to provide the new building on the housing scheme in south west Bicester.

Opposition in call for PM to resign after revelation of offshore fund

WITNEY MP and Prime Minister David Cameron has faced calls to resign after it was revealed last week he benefitted from his late dad's offshore fund before he became leader of the country.

Last Thursday the PM revealed he had owned shares in an offshore firm set up by his dad, Ian, who was named in the leak of about 11 million documents from Panama based law firm Mossack Fonseca.

The PM revealed on Thursday that he had owned about 5,000 shares in the Panama based Blairmore Investment Trust which he sold for about £31,000 in 2010, just before he was elected to Number 10.

In an interview with Channel 4 on Thursday, Mr Cameron said: "I think a lot of the criticisms are based on a fundamental misconception which is that Blairmore Investment Trust was set up with the idea of avoiding tax.

"It wasn't.

Calls for his resignation came from American whistle blower Edward Snowden, Labour MP John Mann and deputy leader of the Labour Party Tom Watson.

Superheroes raise money for hospice

By Katriona Ormiston

PASSENGERS hopping on buses around Oxfordshire may have had a superhero surprise.

Batman, Superman and Wonder Woman were among the characters getting people from A to B to raise funds for an Oxford charity.

In total, 20 Stagecoach drivers from depots in Oxford, Witney and Banbury dressed up as their favourite superhero for shifts from 4am on Friday until 4pm on Saturday.

The effort was in aid of Helen and Douglas House children and young people's hospice in Magdalen Road.

Clayton Moore, from Bicester, is one of the bus drivers being sponsored for the charity. He dressed up as Captain America, Wonder Woman and Red Riding Hood during his eight hour shift and has raised more than £700 so far.

Mr Moore said: "We're dressing up as heroes for the day but the staff at Helen and Douglas House are the real heroes.

"It's been great to see the likes of Batman, Superman, Spiderman and Wonder Woman in the driving seat of some of Oxfordshire's Stagecoach buses and we hope we've helped raise awareness of Helen and Douglas House and what the team there do for families from across the region.

Waving off some of the team was seven year-old Ted Grove-Welsh, who is supported at the hospice for a complex condition and loves buses.

Ted, who lives in Swindon with mum Zoe, dad Sven, 11 year old brother Miles and one year-old sister Emilia, suffers from a rare neurological disorder called aromatic l-amino acid decarboxylase (AADC) deficiency.

The condition causes uncontrolled movement in Ted's limbs and regular, severe and prolonged seizures. He has been attending Helen House regularly for respite care since early 2015, and his family stays in the hospice flats to be near him.

Mrs Grove-Welsh said: "When you are given a different journey in life, you need a little help to make sure you have the strength both mentally and physically to be able to travel along your new path.

"Helen House has given us respite time, love and care which gives us all an inner strength.

Without question, we would be struggling without Helen and Douglas House."

The charity relies on donations for the £5m it costs to run every year.

Helen and Douglas House fundraiser Suzi Attree said: "Comic heroes are something the children at Helen and Douglas House love so we're delighted to be part of this fantastic fundraising idea."

Sunshine Cat Rescue is approaching its fourth "birthday"!

THE Charity has been incredibly successful since its inception with the result that there's always lots of work to be done! We can always make use of more helpers and would welcome some new faces on the team. Specifically at the moment we really need more Home Visitors (particularly to cover the Bicester area),Fosterers a Fundraiser a Treasurer and a Publicity Officer.

Also we need helpers who can regularly empty the food donation bins in various locations around the area.

Please call Lou on 01993 831279 for more information about the available roles.

Kevins STORY Kevin is a five year old tabby who came into our care last November a lady reported seeing him around, living in an old chicken house at the bottom of the garden and contacted Sunshine Cat Rescue. On checking him over, it was found that he had injuries to his leg and neck from a collar in which his leg had been caught. The collar was cutting the skin almost to the bone.

Kevin was taken to the vets several times at one point he collapsed and needed lots of tests to see what had caused this to happen. The blood test results showed that the red blood cell level had dropped dangerously low.

After lots of care and attention Kevin has recovered really well, but still has to visit the vet twice a week for his bandages to be changed and blood tests. He is a lovely cat despite everything he is going through.

At the end of January Kevin's vet bill was £702.01 and is still rising so any donations to help cover this cost would be very welcome.

Quarry plan opposed

By Katriona Ormiston

A PLAN to quarry a stretch of land the size of 165 football pitches between Didcot and Abingdon has been submitted to Oxfordshire County Council.

About 2.5m tonnes of sand and gravel would be extracted over 10 years from Fullamoor Quarry bordering the River Thames if given the go-ahead.

But campaigners fear it would aggravate traffic congestion, increase flood risk and damage the environment.

The plans by Swindon based Hills Quarry Products were published last Thursday.

The land would be quarried in nine phases before being landscaped with wildlife and sailing lakes and a car park once quarrying had finished.

The quarry would lie between Clifton Hampden, Long Wittenham and Appleford with an entrance road joining the A415 Abingdon Road opposite Culham Science Park.

But 800 members of protest group Bachport (Burcot & Clifton Hampden for the Protection of the River Thames) are warning 110 lorry trips a day would equate to an HGV passing through Abingdon or Clifton Hampden every six minutes for 11 hours a day.

Bachport chairman Ian Mason said: "Oxfordshire has 10 years of gravel supply as it stands so why dig up a lovely part of the countryside by the River Thames when we do not need to?

"The river flows all along one side of the site – it will be visible to all who use the Thames Path and the river. And another thing is that it is all in the Green Belt and in the floodplain."

The plans would create 15 jobs – five site workers and 10 lorry drivers.

The sand and gravel would be used in South Oxfordshire for developments including an expansion of Culham Science Park and housing and infrastructure in and around Didcot.

Hills group director Peter Andrew said: "Our planning application follows 18 months of public consultation which included a public exhibition and numerous meetings with local residents.

"As a result of the feedback received we significantly reduced our plans in relation to the volumes of material we hope to extract and the time we will take to work the site.

"The final restoration plans were also scaled back so that no additional material is brought onto site which in turn reduced the overall number of vehicle movements."

A plant site to process the minerals would also be built including a sand and gravel washing plant, a concrete plant, a clean water lagoon and an office building.

Hills originally planned to extract 4.75m tonnes of mineral from the site over 25 years but the proposal has been scaled down.

A public consultation on the planning application (which has a reference number of MW.0039/16) is running on the county council's website until May 13.

Grant for post

FARINGDON: A £40,000 project to revitalise Faringdon town centre is to be launched.

Faringdon Town Council is hoping to hire a market town co-ordinator to join its town team. The post is being supported by a £40,000 grant from Vale of White Horse District Council over two years to boost the town's economy.

Vale leader Matthew Barber said: "We've been really pleased with the work people in Faringdon have put in over the past couple of years."

Motorist is found guilty of causing rider's death

AN OXFORD man has been found guilty of causing the death of an elderly motorcyclist by careless driving.

Mahamud Abubaka, 36, of Pound Field Close, Barton was convicted after a three-day trial at Oxford Crown Court.

Senior investigating officer Sergeant Beth Walton said of Abubaka had taken just seconds to check Marston Road was clear 75 year old Geoffrey Steele would still be alive.

Sgt Walton of the Serious Collision Investigation Unit in Bicester said: "An extra few seconds looking and checking the road was clear and safe to pull out would have prevented this collision and the grief caused to Mr Steele's family and friends."

She added: "Mr Steele, who was a very experienced motorcyclist and enthusiast had been riding safely within the speed restriction and was wearing the correct safety protection including a high visibility jacket to make himself more visible."

Just before Midday on September 26 2014 Abubaka was driving a Vauxhall Zafira on an A40 slip road in Headington and turned right on to Marsh Lane. He pulled out into the path of Geoffrey Steele's BMW R1100 motorcycle.

Mr Steele, from Carterton, died from his injuries at the John Radcliffe Hospital Oxford on October 19.

Abubaka has been bailed to appear at Oxford Crown Court on May 10 to be sentenced.

He was summonsed for the offence on March 27 2015 and charged on May 5 2015.

Four candidates line up for commissioner role

AS election day approaches, the names of candidates standing for the post of Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) in Thames Valley have been announced ahead of the polls opening on Thursday May 5

The current PCC Anthony Stansfeld (Con) who has held the position since it was created in November 2012 is standing for re election for another term but faces competition from across the region.

Amongst those hoping to replace him are Oxfordshire county councillor John Howson

By Alex Ballinger

(Liberal Democrat) and West Oxfordshire district councillor Laetisia Carter (Labour)

The final bal in the ring belongs to Slough-based UKIP candidate Les Tramer

Mr Stansfeld who is also a West Berkshire councillor for Kintbury said, "In my period of being PCC Thames Valley Police has gone from being on of the worst performing to the best three or four I think we've got very good staff and police officers

I had a background in the military and running companies

"I'm probably much better qualified than anybody else"

Mr Stansfeld said his priorities were protecting vulnerable people reducing burglaries and reducing rural crimes

After taking up the post, Mr Stansfeld came under fire in the national press for changing the address of his main office to a local police station which allowed him to claim expenses for the journey from his home to Thames Valley Police (TVP) headquarters in Kidlington

Labour candidate Mrs Carter who lives in Chipping Norton, has served as a district councillor since May 2014 and has worked for the police the NHS and the court service

She said "It's just an amazing opportunity to use the valuable funding to do something really useful.

"I've worked as a commissioner for the NHS for mental health services for the last seven years so I understand about responding to need"

Mrs Carter said her priorities were to fight against cuts to the police budget to respond to crimes on the rise and to increase reporting of domestic abuse and child sexual exploitation

The Home Office has cut police funding by about four per cent a year between 2010 and 2015 with 17 000 frontline jobs being axed during that period according to the police federation

Mr Howson who lives in Oxford served as a magistrate for 23 years and has been a Reading East and Banbury parliamentary candidate in the past

His priorities include protecting policing from Government cuts supporting local policing and the need to tackle rural crimes such as hare coursing

UKIP candidate Les Tramer has served in the Royal Navy and now teaches vulnerable children and young adults

He said, "I will stand up as the straight talking voice of the people in Thames Valley

"I am passionate about restoring trust between the community and the police force

The deadline for members of the public registering to vote in the PCC election as well as those for local councils, is Monday April 18

• John Howson

• Laetisia Carter

• Anthony Stansfeld

• Les Tramer

PCC role was established to give public accountability

THE role of police and crime commissioner (PCC) was created by the Coalition Government in November 2012.

It was aimed at increasing the accountability of policing in the eyes of the electorate by giving members of the public a direct vote

The responsibilities of the police commissioner are to ensure the efficiency and effectiveness of their police force by allocating money

Chief constables are also appointed, suspended and dismissed by them.

The police commissioners must draw up a police and crime plan which sets out their priorities for policing and how they aim to measure performance.

In 2014 the Labour Party planned to scrap the post if they had won last year's General Election following the poor voter turnout in the first PCC elections

Only 15 per cent of those registered to vote did so in November 2012

The low turnout was put down to a lack of information on the election and the candidates as well as the timing of the vote

There are 41 PCCs across England and Wales

Bid to extend hours rejected

PROPOSALS to extend the trading hours of a mobile food van have been refused by West Oxfordshire District Council.

Mr Salik, who has traded from a kebab van trailer in Market Place, Chipping Norton, for 10 years, starting at 6.30pm, wanted to start trading earlier at 5pm in line with other establishments.

But at a licence committee meeting on April 7 councillors were told Chipping Norton Town Council had objected to the extension.

It pointed out his vehicle had packed in Market Place from 4pm, earlier than his licence allowed, taking up space in the car park at a busy period.

The district council report said that while Mr Malik was correct in that other hot food premises were able to start trading earlier, his consent allowed him to operate into the early hours of the next day for longer than the other establishments.

Mr Salik said he wanted the council to extend his licence operating hours because of demand from his customers to buy food on their way home from work.

He apologised for arriving too early but told the council he needed to arrive earlier in order to prepare the van for serving customers.

Cricket club plans

• Artist's impression from Aylesbury Road (inset artist's impression - from Church gate)

By Jayne Smith

PLANS to demolish Thame Cricket Club's pavilion and replace it with a new "fit for purpose" building have been submitted.

The club said the pavilion, built in 1975, is "wholly inadequate" for men's, women's and children's teams and did not comply with the English Cricket Board's (ECB) standards.

The changing rooms are "of poor quality and the showers are not in the changing rooms, meaning players had to walk through public areas to reach them."

The club, which has about 300 members, is based in Church Road, Thame, next to historic St Mary's Church, and is within a conservation area.

The plans include demolishing the building and constructing a new pavilion nearer the pitch. The two storey clubhouse would include a kitchen, a bar and a function room on both floors, storage rooms, an office, changing rooms and a viewing terrace.

The footprint of the building would be slightly bigger than the current one. It would be built of stone with timber cladding in keeping with neighbouring properties.

A net area and service yard are included in the proposal, and the car park would be redesigned to provide 45 spaces and 20 cycle spaces.

Thame Town Council is funding the development to the tune of £120,000 and is seeking a further £150,000 from cash allocated to sports provision in the town by South Oxfordshire District Council.

In a letter of support town clerk Graham Hunt said: "The redevelopment of the clubhouse is further endorsed in the Thame Sports Facility Strategy an output of the adopted Thame Neighbourhood Plan.

"The town council is particularly encouraged by the stated plans of the cricket club for even wider involvement with the community than the already excellent levels of engagement that it currently achieves."

Only cricket would be played at the site, the report said, but its clubhouse facilities would be used by local hockey and netball clubs and other groups for meetings and occasional social events.

A decision is expected to be made in May.

Fly-tip problems on the increase in Cherwell area

By Jayne Smith

A COUNCIL says it will clamp down on dog fouling, littering and fly tipping after figures showed an increase in rubbish being dumped across the Cherwell district.

In the last financial year of 2015/16 a Cherwell District Council report said there were 498 incidents of fly tipping compared with 390 in 2012/13 – an increase of 108 incidents.

A total of 11 incidents were taken to court last year – 2.2 per cent of the total number of fly tips.

The report said fly tipping was "not a major problem" and that a prosecution depended on what evidence was left at the scene.

Other figures for 2015/16 showed no fixed penalty notices for dog fouling were issued, but 19 people were fined for littering and 10 issued with formal cautions – that compares with 2012/13 when six dog foul penalty notices were issued and 54 litter fines and seven formal cautions were handed out.

The council spends £1.135m annually emptying litter bins, removing litter and chewing gum from paths, clearing graffiti and investigating and removing fly tips.

Cherwell said keeping the district clean was a "key priority" and its executive had agreed to support enforcement action and education programmes.

Ian Davies, Cherwell's director of operational delivery said: "We employ good quality, highly motivated staff who do a fine job at keeping the district spick and span.

"But they can't do it on their own. We rely on the public to help, not least by not littering in the first place. Most people are responsible when it comes to waste. They use litter bins and dispose of their household waste through the council's collection services.

"But a few just throw away litter or they try to get rid of waste in gal eways, alleyways or other land. It causes environmental damage and passes the clean up cost on to the council or private landowners.

"Cherwell District Council will continue to take enforcement action whenever it can on littering, fly tipping, abandoned vehicles and dog fouling."

Each year about £15,000 is spent removing chewing gum from town centre streets.

The council is also responsible for clearing litter from parts of the A34 and layboys and said keeping the area clean was a challenge.

• Rare appearance of WW2 Mustang fighter at airshow

Mustang to thrill plane fans at Flywheel event

PEOPLE will be able to get up close to a Second World War American Mustang fighter when it makes a "rare" appearance at a Bicester show.

Flywheel Festival, hosted at Bicester Heritage off Buckingham Road, will take place over the weekend of July 2 and 3.

Hundreds of historic cars, aircraft and military vehicles will be on display at the site, a former RAF flying base.

The P-51 Mustang will thrill crowds with an air display on both days and will also land at the airfield giving visitors the chance to get up close to the plane.

As part of a recent restoration, the P-51 Mustang has received a new livery returning it to the original colours it sported during the war for the first time since then.

The plane served in Italy from 1944 to 1945 as part of the USAF 332nd Fighter Group, the famous Tuskegee Airmen, and still has some of its battle scars.

A Flywheel spokesman said: "In addition to this remarkable aircraft, a number of additional air displays and flypasts will take to the skies above Flywheel, while dozens of hand picked aircraft will be on static display.

"With an intimate atmosphere which allows visitors to get up close to the aircraft and meet the pilots, Flywheel brings together a unique mix of historic aviation, motoring and military displays in a celebration of all things winged and wheeled."

For more information about the festival and tickets, view the website flywheelfestival.com.

£1m potholes cash is 'a drop in ocean'

By Alex Ballinger

NEWS that Oxfordshire will benefit from more than £1 million from the Government to repair potholes has been criticised by transport leaders claiming it was 'a drop in the ocean'.

The Department for Transport (DfT) announced the £50m cash fund to fix potholes across the country last Thursday and also revealed Oxfordshire would benefit from £1,036,000 – enough to fix almost 20,000 potholes.

But a transport spokesman for the Local Government Association (LGA) slammed the contribution.

Councillor Martin Tett, of the LGA, said: "While £50 million is a step in the right direction, councils need more than 230 times that amount to cover the £11.8 billion cost to bring our roads up to scratch.

"The condition of our roads is only going to get worse unless we address it as a national priority."

Last month, the Oxfordshire Guardian reported on a Swedish pothole patcher nicknamed The Dragon taking to the streets of a West Oxfordshire village to fill in potholes.

The patcher earned its name due to its fire-emitting nozzle that it uses to dry out potholes before filling them. It fixes about 20 each day on average.

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for transport, David Nimmo Smith, said: "It is welcomed funding, which we will put to excellent use in our battle with potholes.

"This additional funding, together with our new Dragon patcher, will mean that we can get on top of the road condition over the next few months.

"There is never enough funding available nationally as well as locally to fully keep on top of the road conditions.

"Allocating this funding to potholes will allow the county to divert much needed funding to dealing with other road issues."

More than 100 councils across England will receive a slice of the pie over the next year to fix almost 1m potholes.

The £50m injection is part of the DfT's £250m Pothole Action Fund included in the March budget, which will be spent by 2020/2021.

Transport secretary Patrick McLoughlin said: "I know how important well maintained roads are to people across the country.

"Almost every journey starts and ends on a local road.

"[Government is] giving councils long term certainty for the first time to plan future work with the aim of preventing potholes and improving local roads, bridges and street lighting."

President of the AA Edmund King tweeted after the announcement to say the cash was welcome but was still a drop in the ocean.

Police mount anti-drugs operation at a town pub

A NEW anti-drug scheme in Bicester saw 254 people have their hands swabbed for illicit substances at a pub in the town.

Anyone who was found to have traces of drugs on their skin, or who refused to have their hands swabbed, were denied entry to The White Hart in Sheep Street on Friday April 1.

Of the 254 customers tested, 29 were found to have had recent contact with drugs – six of these people were searched although no drugs were found during the operation.

PC Vicky Lees, of Bicester Police Station, said: "We ran this operation as our Pub Watch members wanted to show that drug use will not be tolerated.

"As the success of this operation shows, the majority of those who were attending the venue had made no contact with drugs.

"We are keen to support the Pub Watch Scheme and carrying out operations like Friday will enhance the message that we do not tolerate drug use in Bicester.

"We would like to thank the staff of the White Hart for their full co-operation and we are looking forward to running this type of operation in the future."

Officers were on the doors of the pub between 7pm and 11pm.

Those found to have traces of drugs on their hands were given words of guidance by the police officers.

Group hits out over 'promise' on child centres

Protesters campaigning against cuts outside Oxfordshire County Council's offices in February

A CAMPAIGN group has accused a council of breaking what it claims was a promise to spend £2 million on keeping Oxfordshire children's centres open.

Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) plans to close 44 children's centres and early intervention hubs, replacing them with eight larger centres in an attempt to cut over £300m from its budget by 2020.

But earlier this year the council opted to scrap £2m of the cuts to the children's services however it has not yet announced how the money will be spent – and the council has come under fire from the Save Oxfordshire's Children's Centres group.

Campaign group spokesman, Cherie Payne said: "It seems that the council is planning to break its promise in order to fund a service that no one wants.

"Sixty councillors voted for this budget in good faith that £2m was to be put towards keeping our children's centres open.

"I would like Councillor Melinda Tilley (cabinet member for children, education and families) to answer to those councillors who voted for this money to be put towards children's centres and to the 19,500 children who use our children's centres."

OCC has proposed reorganising its children's services by offering a new 0-19 service operating from eight larger children and family centres across the county.

These would be in Oxford (three), Banbury, Bicester, Witney, Abingdon and Didcot and the new service would reduce the budget by £8m annually.

But the group said the council had broken its promise to use the £2m to keep the centres open.

Cllr Mrs Tilley said: "The money was to go to children services not children's centres. That was what passed in the budget.

"That is going to enable us to help set up the eight new children and family centres we need to build.

"We're doing everything we can to keep as many as possible open. That might include seed funding from that money."

A decision on how the £2m will be spent is likely to be made at a cabinet meeting on May 24.

Celebrating life

OXFORD: An exhibition dedicated to the life and achievements of Mother Teresa is set to open in Oxford this month.

The event comes after Pope Francis announced earlier this month she would become a saint in September.

It will be held from April 19 to 30 at The Oxford Oratory in Woodstock Road and is free to enter.

Thatch blaze

FARINGDON: Two cottages in a hamlet near Faringdon were badly damaged last Wednesday when their thatched roofs caught fire.

Fire crews were called to Compton Beauchamp at about 9.30pm to the rapidly spreading fire.

Ten fire engines and 60 firefighters tackled the blaze and to remove possessions to safety.

Jewellery stolen

OXFORD: Jewellery was stolen from a property in Ridgefield Road in Cowley last Tuesday.

Offenders gained entry by forcing entry through a front door and carried out a messy search between 6.30pm and 10.30pm.

An attempted burglary also took place in Hooker Close, Headington, on the same day at about 9pm.

A wheelie bin had been left lying on its side and a fence panel had been removed to make a gap.

The would-be burglars tried to smash a kitchen window to gain entry but failed.

Third man charged over a Headington bank raid

A THIRD suspect has been charged after a daylight bank robbery in Headington earlier this year when a substantial amount of cash was stolen.

Ben Matthews, 29, of no fixed abode, was charged last Wednesday with one count of robbery after the incident on January 23.

Offenders entered Lloyds Bank in London Road at about 10.30am and demanded money with one man wielding what is believed to have been a firearm.

The men fled along Stephen Road to a getaway vehicle.

Investigating officer Detective Sergeant Parsons, of Force CID in Oxford, said: "This was a frightening crime which took place in broad daylight on a Saturday morning.

Although no one was injured, staff and customers are obviously shocked by the experience."

Matthews appeared before Oxford Magistrates' Court last Wednesday and has been remanded in custody.

He is due to appear at Oxford Crown Court on Friday, May 6.

Tyron Smith, 29, and a 16 year old boy who cannot be named for legal reasons, both of no fixed abode, have also been charged.

They are due to appear at Oxford Crown Court for trial on August 8.

Smith has also been charged with one count of possession with intent to supply heroin.

New Horizons in Hearing

The new hearing aid from Widex pushes the barriers of performance. WIDEX UNIQUE takes digital processing to a new level to capture more sound than any other hearing aid on the market and is now available at Keith Donaghy Hearingcare

Supreme sound quality in any environment.

Hearing soft sounds is particularly important for users but even more important is determining which are useful and which are not. UNIQUE is the only hearing aid that ensures important soft sounds are maintained and unwanted soft sounds are removed.

The powerful soft level noise reduction system reduces the soft sounds users do not want to hear while retaining the audibility of soft speech. And it determines the difference between speech and noise (particularly background noise) without any compromise in speech intelligibility or comfort.

The best wind noise reduction in the industry.

For users to truly enjoy being outdoors, it is essential that they can hear clearly no matter the conditions. The wind noise attenuation system in UNIQUE provides users with documented improvement in hearing speech and environmental sounds in the presence of wind noise.

Full connectivity

All unique hearing aids are compatible with the DEX range of communication accessories that provide full connectivity to mobile phones, remote controls, TVs and more.

NEW HORIZONS IN HEARING

Keith Donaghy warns prospective customers to be careful about misleading and inaccurate special offers and to consider that "you get what you pay for". He said that Keith Donaghy Hearing care is an independent company and can offer completely impartial advice and an aftercare service that is vital to make sure things run smoothly for the future of the client and their hearing aid system.

Fun's on menu for food festival

FUN will be on the menu when Raymond Blanc's 'Festival of Flavour' is staged at the Brasserie Blanc in Oxford from Monday to Sunday April 11 to 17.

The festival at the Walton Street restaurant will celebrate food and flavour with a variety of new taste experiences including complimen tary tasters and adventurous amuse bouches.

Raymond Blanc

And with the event also being held at other Brasserie Blanc's across the country, Raymond hopes it will be a week to remember in the city that made his name.

Raymond told the Oxfordshire Guardian: "The festival is about having fun with food and exploring new flavours.

"We've noticed that so many of our diners opt for more daring dishes at Brasserie Blanc such as Escargot and Steak Tartare, so we're encouraging all our guests to step out of their comfort zones and explore different dishes and ingredients.

"Festival of Flavour is also about celebrating a particular moment of a season. Taste the first tender British asparagus, the best spring lamb and seasonal, sustainably sourced fish. Each of these flavours is about authenticity and the ever changing cycle of the seasons."

The 66 year-old added: "Of course the heart of the festival is food, but the festival wouldn't be what it is without your loved ones around you with Sunday April 17 being a family day with lots of fun activities.

"Everyone can do the super taster challenge to find out if they have more sensitive tastebuds than their nearest and dearest."

After moving to England in 1972 with very little English, the then 22 year-old took a job as a waiter at the Rose Revived restaurant at Newbridge, between Witney and Abingdon.

But one day when the head chef called in sick, Raymond stood in for him in a move that was to change his life for the better.

His leadership and cooking skills were to see him become one of the most successful chefs of the modern age.

Five years after he first stepped foot in the country, Raymond opened his first restaurant, Les Quat' Saisons in Summertown, which won the Egon Ronay Restaurant of the Year Award and achieved two prestigious Michelin stars within two years.

He has since opened a number of Brasserie Blanc restaurants across the country and was awarded an OBE in 2008.

Folk-rockers make city return

AFTER a number of successful shows in the county, folk-rock band Moulettes will be returning to Oxfordshire on Friday, April 22.

The fivesome arrives at The Cellar as part of their UK tour following the release of their latest album, Preternatural.

"In early 2015 we were reading an article in the New Scientist about new life forms deep under ground and under sea and we started thinking about a concept for the new album," lead singer Hannah Miller told the Guardian.

"The article compelled me to look deeper and start exploring all the surreal and beautiful diversity that exists. There are so many phenomenal creatures, they deserve more than one album! During the writing process we watched a lot of David Attenborough and were really inspired by the insights his documentaries offer."

Made up of Hannah Miller (lead vocals, cello and guitar), Oliver Austin (drums, guitar, percussion and vocals), Ruth Skipper (co-lead vocals, bassoon and autoharp), Jim Mortimore (bass and vocals) and Raevennan Husbandes (electric guitar and co-lead vocals), the Brighton band will be joined by fellow bands Water Pagent and Bandicoot for their first gig at the Frewin Court venue.

The Moulettes

And if their gig next Friday is as good as one of their previous visits to the city, which included labour in an audience member, according to Hannah, audience members will be in for a treat.

"We've had a few great shows and festivals in and around Oxford," she said.

Doors open at 7.30pm and tickets cost from £10 to £15.

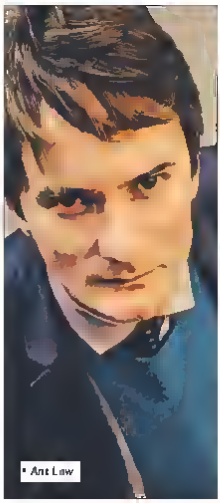
Chapel hosts jazz gig



Ant Law

By James Richings

EXPECT a night of modern jazz with a heavy Indian influence when musician Anl Law arrives at Warneford Chapel in Oxford on Monday April 18

The musician who is embarking on a short UK tour comes to the Warneford Lane venue to perform tracks from his latest album One with Anl revealing to the Guardian what inspired him to record his latest hits

"One is an album by Tim Garland that I played on with fellow musician Asaf Sirkis," he said

"And as for Tim's inspiration behind it I suspect it was mainly because there is a track using an Arabic rhythm called a Samai featuring Egyptian percussionist Hossam Ramzy which may be addressing the problems the Middle East

Anl s appearance in Oxford will not be a lonely one as he will be joined by fellow musicians and friends Conor Chaplin on the bass and drummer Asaf Sirkis

And with this gig being the first of two performances in the city in quick succession for Anl he hopes that his unique instrumental sounds will encourage music enthusiasts to listen to music that they are usually not familiar with.

He also wants to help inspire a new generation of musicians

Anl along with musicians Tim Garland Jason Rebello and Asaf Sirkis will also gig at the Spin Jazz Club on Thursday April 21

"I think it s really important for people to experience live music," Anl said.

"I find it amazing, fulfilling and spiritual watching bands soloists operas and orchestras

"I hate to think how boring life must be for those who don t check out all types of music

"Of course there s also the issue that if the younger generation don t engage with music and eventually no one will be interested in it or be able to contextualise it.

"However if they do because it's amazing and I m not really worried about that "

He added "I d love to continue working with the people I work with currently as relationships develop a great deal and this comes out in the music

"And I know this might seem off topic but I ve always loved Stevie Wonder s music so if I ever play with him I ll die a happy man "

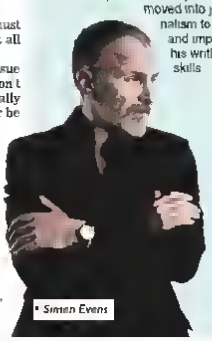
The gig starts at 7pm and tickets cost £5

Comic Simon to visit city

LUTON BASED comedian Simon Evans will be appearing at The Glee Club on Thursday April 28

The 50 year old arrives at the Hythe Bridge Street venue as part of his UK tour which will also see him visit venues in Aylesbury Gloucester and Nottingham among many others

After achieving a degree in law at Southampton University Simon moved into journalism to try and improve his writing skills



Simon Evans

And it was after he was asked to write a review about a comedy show that Simon decided to give comedy a go

"I really didn t think I would make a living out of stand-up even when I was doing the open spots" Simon told the Guardian

"It seemed more like fun and a way of honing my writing skills because you get found out quickly if your writing isn t up to it

You can present something to an editor who can decide if some thing is funny or not in a paper but if you're doing it up in front of an audience they either laugh or they don't "

He added "One of the things I'm trying to get across in the show is that this is still quite similar to the sort of subject matter you d approach in comedy

It is mainly about human behaviour and idiosyncrasies

Traditional comedy is about the gap between what we like to think we're like and what we're actually like If you take a step back and look at it."

The 7pm show is suitable for over 16s and tickets cost £14 or £12 for full time students.

COMEDY AT THE NORTHCOURT NEEDS YOU

The popular Out of Bounds comedy Acts used to be held monthly at the Abingdon Guildhall until the refurbishment of the Hall meant that they had to finish

The NORTHCOURT entertainment venue, which also includes Music at the Northcourt (held at Abingdon United opposite the Boundary House), decided to try to continue the event so that Abingdon and area did not lose something that up to 90 people attended once a month

However, numbers have been around half that which is needed to make it economic and if you used to attend at the Guildhall and didn't realise it had moved, now is the time to come back at the new venue to ensure it will continue

If numbers don't pick up in the next two months the Comedy will have to sadly close, so if you did attend or know someone who did tell them where it is now, or if you haven't tried live comedy this is your chance to give it a go

Don't bother to turn up if you haven't a sense of humour or don't like laughing as you would be disappointed

So come along this Friday to see four great comics in a relaxed atmosphere, it starts at 8pm prompt at the NORTHCOURT

The first of the last? Terry Pratchett versus the Bard

• Rory Morrison as William Shakespeare

By Alex Ballinger

LIKE many thousands, I grew up reading the books created by the maniacal imagination of the late great master of wit and magic, Sir Terry Pratchett.

So I swam at the chance to see a stage adaptation of his works like his colossal turtle through the cosmos.

It was 25 years ago that Oxford's Stephen Briggs first staged one of the master's pieces, Wyrd Sisters, making it the first Pratchett novel acted out anywhere in the world.

The most recent addition to the Studio Theatre Club's universe of Pratchett marks two historic dates in literary history by liberally splashing together a tale from the Discworld and Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream.

April 2016 sees the 400th anniversary of the Bard's death, and what would have been Pratchett's 68th birthday.

The most poignant part of Briggs' latest tale, The Shakespeare Codex, hit me around halfway through the first act - this would be the first of the last of Pratchett on stage, since Bill Door came knocking last March.

The great man is no longer here to spew out his powerful imagination not around to pen new tales for us to stage, so we are left without additions to the Discworld saga.

But because of this, I loved The Shakespeare Codex. It was something special, a barrage of farce and wit that would have made Pratchett proud.

And seeing the works of Pratchett and the Bard side by side felt nothing but appropriate and I quickly came to see that this was not the beginning of the end, because his work would survive him.

In the year 2415, I would expect to see a year's worth of events commemorating the 400th anniversary of Pratchett's passing. This play sees a band of wizards battle elves to ensure Shakespeare pens his timeless works.

Stand-out performances came from Dan Booth as the terrified and inept wizard Rincewind, the lynchpin of the Unseen University, Ponder Stibbons, played by Brian Mackenwells, and Natasha Warner as the Elf Queen.

Rory Morrison also played Shakespeare with the likeability we all hope the real playwright had.

The charming touch of the amdrams doesn't detract anything from the tale and Briggs' sense of humour doesn't blunt in transition from Pratchett's sharp nib.

The medieval building suits the mysterious and ancient feel of the play and at times even holds the air of Shakespeare's famous Globe theatre in London.

In short, this play reinvigorated my childhood love of Discworld and in my mind, cemented Pratchett's place as a giant of the written word.

Praise for gearbox and interior with Mazda's latest model, as well as its host of technological offerings

New Mazda put through its paces

By Tony Yates

POWER AND EFFICIENCY The CX-3 is powered by Mazda's SKYACTIV D Diesel four-cylinder in-line DOHC 16 valve engine. Nought to 62 mph is dealt with in 10.1 seconds, moving on to a top speed of 110 mph.

The CX-3 official fuel economy figures from Mazda were 70.6mpg (combined) with a CO2 rating of 105 g/km, although the best I could get was around 50mpg, but then I was not trying to get near what Mazda say.

ON THE ROAD I like the way the CX-3 handles the road – it feels very well balanced.

When the road gets twisty – it is more than capable of holding its own. The steering feels light and you get a lot of feedback from the front wheels as to what the surface below you is doing.

Also, when you hook all this up to its fantastic six speed gearbox – you can't really go wrong – it's no exaggeration for me to say that I think the CX-3 is the best crossover to drive on the road at the moment.

DESIGN AND INTERIOR My test car was fitted with leather seating which lifts even the most boring cockpit – but no worries here as Mazda have made one of the best interiors I have seen so far this year.

All the controls are right there when you need them and the dials/readouts are all clear and fresh looking.

The seats were also very hugging and the driving position was very good with plenty of room in the back for three adults – even people who are fit plus.

Add in the CX-3s good size boot and you start to see how it all fits together.

TECHNOLOGY Some of the standard features on the CX-3 SE/SE Nav+ daytime running lights, cruise control, seven inch colour touch screen display with AM/FM/DAB radio with six speakers, CD player, USB and iPod, dynamic stability control and traction control system.

TO SUM UP I like the CX-3 – I am now looking to replace my current Seat with dare I say it – a CX-3.

Standard car price £21,895.

Thumbs up for the new Mazda CX-3 1.5 105ps 2WD Sport Nav Diesel

ADVERTORIAL

Ben and Mike's journey to success

By James Richings

WHEN Ben Thompson was injured in a horrific road accident back in June 2008 his life was changed forever

The promising rugby player was badly hurt when he and six friends walked along the A338 between Frilford and East Hanney near Wantage nearly eight years ago where he sustained a broken foot and neck.

However after recovering from his injuries Ben along with friend Mike Terry teamed up and started their own business Thompson & Terry

Founded in August 2014 the company which is based at Merchant House on St Helen Street in Abingdon is an independent recruitment consultancy service which specialises in selecting and placing permanent Sales & Marketing and Office staff

And with Thompson & Terry giving people in Oxfordshire a chance of finding a potential job I spoke to Ben about why he and Mike wanted to start the business the pleasures of starting their own company the apprenticeship scheme the two have created and what the two have in store for the next few years

Their answers will hopefully inspire the next generation of youngsters to find a career that they will flourish in

How did you and Mike first meet?

I met Mike in early 2013 when I was then the account manager for Jack FM Oxfordshire and Mike was working for another recruitment agency whilst running another small businesses in which I was helping him to advertise via the radio

What is the purpose of your company?

Thompson & Terry is about creating cost effective solutions that work such as sourcing the right personnel for their desired role and most importantly finding people for the right company

As a recruitment partner it is important that we tailor our service to meet the needs of both clients and candidates to ensure that we are able to work together with every single person in a bid to offer a consultative solution

It is our vision that every client deserves a bespoke permanent recruitment service that is paired with our local knowledge and unmatched consultative approach to employment

We aim to provide a straightforward efficient and approachable recruitment solution for your company

What inspired the two of you to start the recruitment agency?

Whilst Mike and I are very different, we quickly realised that we share a very similar philosophy with regards to the level of service that should be offered by a recruitment agency and we felt we could likely do a better job

It we were to interview every client and candidate thoroughly we would only send them for consideration if we would personally recruit them ourselves we would likely be able to build a good business and we did exactly that!

Tell us more about the apprentice scheme you have got going?

Mid-2015 as a business we decided that we were going to offer an ambitious young person the opportunity to build a long-term career within recruitment via an apprenticeship as a starting point.

With the help of Abingdon & Witney College we were keen to ensure that any recruit that was given the opportunity would be as passionate as we are

In September 2015 we recruited Maisie Durkin who since has rapidly grown and become an integral part of our business

Maisie regularly attends and talks at networking events attends client visits interviews candidates and even creates and stars in promotional videos

What is the best thing about helping people from your experience?

If we are being totally honest not every candidate or client seems to be grateful for our sheer hard work and we often don't hear from them again after the placement has been made, which is fine

But what really makes our job worth while are the candidates who are truly over the moon.

A great example of this is a young lad, who was so happy he had obtained his dream job which he never thought was possible

Since then he has obtained a promotion and become an integral asset to that business and also very kindly recommended us to several of his friends and business contacts

What is the most challenging thing about your job?

Arguably the biggest problem for boutique agencies such as ourselves are the cowboy agencies who work purely to a numbers model.

A massive example of this is a candidate that we had met

We spent three to four hours to really learn about them in order to find the right 'fit' for them after exploring a number.

We then spent the evening helping them to re-write their CV and providing them with as much information about the role and client as possible before submitting their application

However within seconds the client called us to advise they had received the candidate a CV 10 minutes ago from another agency – we have since found out that the agency hadn't even spoken to the candidate but just picked up the CV from a job board and hoped for the best.

The conclusion of this story is the candidate got the job and the other agency received a £4,000 to £5 000 fee for our hard work

The only silver lining was that the candidate was very grateful indeed and they seem to be doing really well with our client

After helping someone secure a job, do you still keep in contact with that candidate?

We certainly keep constant communication from when the offer is accepted until the start date to ensure both parties are happy and the candidate receives everything they need prior to their first day

After this point we would always go via the client in order to hear of the progress of the candidate and offer support that might be required by the client or the candidate

The reason for this is simple, due to the rising number of cowboys within our industry that often place a candidate before pouching them six months later we are very anxious for our act of genuine interest not to be mistaken for anything else.

What is the next goal for Thompson and Terry within the next year?

Whilst we are quickly becoming a successful and well regarded business we are always looking for ways to improve and sustainably grow in order to offer a better service to both clients and candidates

Aside from improving the service we provide and the financial return we are working towards our final goal which is probably a more sentimental one

We are working with a number of local colleges schools and charities in order to help provide a second chance into employment to as many job seekers as possible as our way of giving something back.

We worked with 180 business students at the City of Oxford College with the help of a former teacher ot mine Caroline Craft to complete their first three assignments which were all around employability skills whilst providing them with the best possible insight into how they could achieve their own career goals and be successful

Saints sail to win over Sharks in opening tie

By Alex Ballinger

OXFORD Saints opened their 2016 season with a great performance at home against the Cornish Sharks on Sunday, polishing off the Newquay based squad 46-12.

New addition to the Saints quarterback Destin Maulding put in a standout performance in the first game at their new ground Tilsley Park in Abingdon.

The American serviceman's high school football experience places Oxford in good stead for the start of the season.

Saints opened the first quarter with possession and smashed through the Sharks defence in only six plays to score the first touchdown.

Maulding found tight end Richard Bloomer in space in the endzone with a completed pass to kick off the scoring in Saints' favour.

The ball was not set in place in time for rookie kicker Sam Fielden to take the extra point, so Ian Hiscock instead made the call to scramble with the ball and pitch to Bloomer, who went to run it in.

Just as the defence brought down Bloomer he pitched back to Fielden, who ran it in for the two points.

But the Sharks came out of the gate fast on their possession with a deep pass from quarterback Peter Carlin which found his receiver and brought the offence within yards of the endzone.

Carlin snuck the ball across, on the third play of the drive for the touchdown but the Sharks pass attempt for the two points was incomplete, bringing the scoreline to 8-6.

Oxford's next drive saw American Maulding's speed and experience pay off and he crossed the line himself for a 13 yard touchdown, making the score 15-6.

The Saints kicked off the scoring in the second quarter with a 19 yard pass to Bloomer who charged it into the endzone for his second of the day.

In the second half Sharks' possession was cut short by linebacker Calvin Holmes who intercepted a Carlin pass to run the 35 yards for a touchdown.

Late in the fourth Cornwall found themselves in scoring distance after an Oxford drive was cut short by a turnover deep in their half.

Mark Womble ran the short 15 yards for the touchdown but his two point conversion was unsuccessful, putting the score at 20-12 to Oxford.

The final score was down to running back James Walter who sprinted in 20 yards, easily out running the Cornish defence, to claim his first touchdown at Tilsley Park.

Oxford now hit the road to play Bristol Apache on April 24.

Oxfordshire ready for cricket season

CRICKET season will soon be underway, with Oxfordshire looking to better their runners-up achievement in last year's Minor Counties Championship.

After winning the MCCA Unicorns Western Division, they faced Cumberland in the national final in Carlisle where they were eventually beaten.

But it capped a positive season for Oxfordshire, with the aim for 2016 is to go one better.

Luke Ryan, business manager at the Oxfordshire Cricket Board, said: "Cricket in Oxfordshire is in a strong place moving into the 2016 season.

"We have been working hard during the winter months to make sure cricket in this county continues to develop and go from strength to strength.

"The performance sides have all prepared well and a variety of projects are planned to aid participation of the game.

"We are looking forward to the season ahead and would encourage everyone to follow our progress and engage with us."

Slim pickings for City after two tough games

OXFORD City had a disappointing week as they only managed to pick up just one point from their games against Hayes & Yeading United and Whitehawk.

It means they have dropped further back from the play off places with the number of games left rapidly running out.

Saturday's match at home to Hayes & Yeading yielded a point following a 2-2 draw although they would have been frustrated not to have won.

Hayes raced into a 2-0 lead before City fought back in the second half through goals from Jose Lapoujade and Bradley Bubb.

City had several opportunities to add to their tally including an open goal chance in the dying moments of the match, but couldn't capitalise.

And it was even worse on Tuesday night with a Jordan Rose brace earning Whitehawk victory on an evening that saw City captain Darren Pond succumb to injury just eight minutes in.

The results put City on 53 points in ninth five behind Hemel Hempstead Town in the final play-off position with three games left to play.

And it is Hemel Hempstead that City next face away on Saturday in a match they have to win to keep their play-off hopes alive.

Title joy for Greens after Lydney victory

KIDLINGTON topped a stunning season as a 2-1 win over Lydney Town on Saturday ensured they were crowned Hellenic Premier League champions

The three points mean the Greens cannot now be caught by second-placed Thatcham Town who were seven points behind after Saturday's match

A 3-0 win away to reigning champions Flackwell Heath on Tuesday night sweetened the moment with Kidlington having just one match left to play

It took 14 minutes of Saturday's match before the first real goal scoring opportunity presented itself as Anaclet Odhiambo's header was tipped just over the bar

By Adam Flinn

Kidlington came close again on the half hour mark as Lewis Coyle's free kick found the head of Ryan Brooks but Lydney keeper Richard Thomas was able to divert it on to the bar

And yet another effort clattered into the woodwork on 38 minutes as Odhiambo somehow mishit his shot from just a few yards out, the sides going into the break goalless as a result

But the Greens finally got the goal they deserved shortly into the second half as Brooks fired a great shot inside the far post to put the visitors in front

On the hour mark it was 2-0 as just after replacing Brooks on the pitch Krishan Thomas hammered in Lewis Coyle's cross to put the title within reach

Lydney grabbed a late consolation as Kerry Hale smashed in a swerving shot in injury time but it was not enough to deny Kidlington their triumph

In Tuesday's match against Flackwell, Coyle scored early on before Thomas and Jack Quainton added further strikes to earn another three points

Kidlington host Tuffley Rovers in their last game on Saturday

Ten-man North Leigh earn point against league leaders

NORTH Leigh put in a solid performance to claim a point against Southern League Division One South and West leaders Cinderford Town on Saturday

Despite being reduced to 10 men the Millers held on to secure a second consecutive 0-0 result.

Callum McNish was the man given his marching orders on 58 minutes after picking up a second yellow when the referee judged, somewhat controversially, that he had taken a dive

However Cinderford were unable to take advantage of their extra man with the point leaving North Leigh ninth in the standings with 62 points after Saturday's match

They were hosting Wimborne Town in the league last night as the Guardian went to press

Elsewhere, Wantage Town had a miserable afternoon on Saturday as they were thrashed 4-0 away to Larkhall Athletic

Three goals in a devastating seven minute spell in the first half sealed the Freds' late with the Larks able to add another in the 71st minute

They sit 20th in the table with 20 points after a disappointing campaign.

Wantage are back in action for their final home game of the season against Bishops Cleeve on Saturday

Fall ends Smith's points-scoring run

BRADLEY Smith's impressive run of MotoGP point scoring finishes was brought to an end in Texas on Sunday when a fall dropped him to the back of the field.

The Oxford rider was up to eighth by lap eight but the fall at the 11th turn of the Circuit of the Americas in Austin ended his hopes of a 27th successive finish in the points

Despite the accident, Smith was able to jump back on his bike and continue... eventually bringing his Monster Yamaha Tech 3 home in 17th place

"I lost the front at turn 11 due to an oil spill or something on the racetrack, which was frustrating because it wasn't a mistake of my own," said Smith after the race.

"I couldn't really do much once I got back on the bike because I had a damaged gear lever which made it difficult to shift plus I also lost the anti wheelie so the final laps were tricky to say the least

"However I was determined to finish because we had worked hard all weekend and overall there are still many positives to consider as we were definitely stronger at the beginning of this grand prix than we have been in the first two"

Smith is currently 13th in the championship standings with 16 points

He will be hoping for better luck at the next race in Jerez, Spain on April 24

Appleton signs new deal with U's

OXFORD United manager Michael Appleton has signed a new rolling contract with the club

The 40 year old who joined the U's in the summer of 2014 has been given the improved contract following United's strong season which has seen them mount a strong promotion challenge and play at Wembley

Appleton said. "I have thoroughly enjoyed my time at Oxford and it was an easy decision to agree a new contract because all I've ever wanted is to help take the club forward.

The fans have made me feel welcome and I'm pleased to get everything sorted and be able to focus solely on the remaining five games of the season."

The contract follows several months of negotiations between Appleton and the club

Chairman Darryl Eales said "I am delighted that Michael has agreed to continue to be a central part of what we are trying to build here

"He is a man of total integrity with a huge work ethic and has the greatest respect of everyone

"He has assembled an excellent squad that combines young local players with more experienced professionals and we look forward to working with him for many years to come."

Maguire grabs a brace as Yellows thrash Crawley 5-1 away

U's bounce back from final sorrow

By Christian Wilson

OXFORD United bounced back from their Wembley heartbreak in style on Saturday to reaffirm their League Two promotion credentials

The U s hammered Crawley Town 5 1 on the road after going behind with a sensational second half performance to stretch the gap over third to two points

A Chris Maguire brace plus goals from Callum O Dowda Liam Sercombe and George Waring helped the Yellows claim their 21st league win of the season

There was a fear before the clash at Broadfield Stadium that Oxford would suffer a hangover from their loss to Barnsley in the Johnstone s Paint Trophy final six days earlier

But manager Michael Appleton s side came flying out of the traps early on and but for the heroics of Crawley s Jack Rose they would have taken a 10th minute lead as he saved well to deny Liam Sercombe

It was the hosts who broke the deadlock midway through the half however as Gavin Tomlin squared the ball for Joe McNerny to fire home

But Oxford drew level six minutes before the break when winger Alex MacDonald crossed for Maguire to slot home in the back of the net

The U s took just one minute and 45 seconds to take the lead after half time through O Dowda who latched on to Danny Hylton s clever flick to power the ball into the corner of the net

Hylton was the provider again five minutes later when his pass sent Sercombe through to fire past Rose

Maguire won and converted a penalty 18 minutes from time to make it four with Appleton taking that as his cue to rest star men Hylton and O Dowda

But Crawley s misery was not over as the substitutes got on the act to make it 5 1 four minutes from time as James Roberts crossed for George Waring to force the ball over the line

Only five matches now stand in the way of the U s claiming a place in League One starting with this Saturday s match against Luton at the Kassam Stadium

And Appleton has called on the club s fans to help his side get over the line by providing them with a 12th man advantage over the Hatters

He said "The fans were brilliant at Crawley and I have said all season that they have been absolutely magnificent."
